Season 2027

From the enduring relevance of Beethoven to the thrill of a world premiere, in 2027 you’ll experience the MSO through live performances that quiet the outside world and invite you to let go.

In 2027 the MSO Geelong series includes five electrifying performances, opening with Chief Conductor and Artistic Advisor Jaime Martín conducting Paul Lewis in Beethoven’s Emperor Piano Concerto. Jaime returns two more times in 2027 for concerts featuring violinists Christian Li and James Ehnes. Also in your Geelong Series is Featured Artist Alexandra Dariescu performing Ravel’s jazzy Piano Concerto in G.

In Melbourne, Jaime leads spectacular performances featuring Beethoven’s uplifting Ninth Symphony, and continues his multi-year exploration of the full symphony cycles of Dvořák and Mahler. And don’t miss the ultimate feast for the senses as Jaime conducts Elgar’s Cello Concerto with cellist Li-Wei Qin and Walton’s enormous Belshazzar’s Feast featuring the MSO Chorus at a special midwinter performance.

We’re also delighted to welcome Melbourne-born Nicholas Carter to the MSO Artistic Family as Chief Guest Conductor. Now with a well-established international career, Nicholas returns to his hometown to lead the MSO for two programs at Hamer Hall, including Bruckner’s monumental Eighth Symphony.

In November we return to Costa Hall for a collaboration with Warrnambool-based Find Your Voice Collective. Join us for a very special performance featuring profound original works written by artists who identify with a disability, brought to life by the Orchestra and a 150-member choir. You can add this performance to your 2027 Geelong Series.

Learn more about all these concerts and more in the enclosed brochure, with details about the Geelong Series found on page 63. If you see a Melbourne performance you’d also like to attend, you can add any concert in the season to your subscription at a reduced rate – see page 66 for pricing.

Our colleagues at Geelong Arts Centre (GAC) are looking forward to taking your booking.

Please return the attached form directly to GAC or call them on 1300 251 200 (Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm; Sat, 10am-2pm).

Join us in 2027 to share moments of extraordinary scale, intensity and beauty.

Yours in music,

Melbourne Symphony Orchestra
